

“Building on Our Legacy”

is the name for the new phase of our collective journey towards making some very important improvements to our church home. The exploratory phase represented by “Our Space – Our Future” and predecessor efforts over the past four years has concluded, having provided a clear definition of our highest priority needs and a feasible conceptual design for meeting them. As we move forward together, we will proudly build on the legacy voiced by our minister, Reverend Charlie Jones, when he dedicated our first building in 1959.

Excerpt from Building Dedication 1959
“This building will be a church home when it is greatly used... when it has become tracked with the muddy feet of children, when the walls show usage, when its doors are open wide and often to ourselves and strangers...”
Rev. Charles M. Jones

EVERYBODY COME to the Jones Building Open House on Saturday, September 16! At 5:00, we’ll begin with an informational presentation, followed by free exploration of all the affected spaces and their proposed improvements. Members of the Building Project Task Force will be there to chat with you from 5:00 to 7:00. There will be fun activities, food and drink for all ages!

Please join the “Building on Our Legacy” discussion about specific uses of the Jones Building space and refinements to the conceptual designs, over the next three months. Drop by the “Building on Our Legacy” display in the Jones Building Alcove (between kitchen and stage) during Sunday tabling - pause to chat, visualize the space, and ponder the implications!

Sign up for one (or more) informal discussion sessions to focus on particular aspects of the project, where you can exchange ideas, questions and comments with others similarly interested.

Proposed Discussion Groups will convene near the Jones Building stage 5 minutes after each Sunday service. Scheduled topics are subject to change; please check weekly announcements.
